Gene Carson

Born in Indiana to an Air Force family and raised primarily in the Upstate of South Carolina; an alumni of Clemson University with a degree in Accounting and Political Science; brief employment with Coats & Clark before moving to Atlanta and began working at Turner Broadcasting in senior positions before transitioning to wireless communications with AT&T and becoming Sr. VP of Corporate Operations for nsoro/MasTec; he and his husband of 26 years had a weekend home in Blue Ridge before retiring and moving into Goose Island. Enjoys cooking, yard work, reader of nonfiction; no pets now, but maybe a dog later.

Raised a Baptist then later in the Episcopal church; visiting CLCC during vacations, always felt and still feels a sense of warmth and welcome and “always knew this would be my home!”
